Dairy Plants Surveyed and Approved for USDA Grading Service

PREFACE

The dairy plants listed in this publication are periodically inspected by USDA. There are two types of USDA dairy plant approval. Those operations denoted with "P" codes (Packaging and Processing) have only partial approval and the resulting products may not be officially graded. (See page 5 for further details.) All other product codes, B, C, D, M, and S, denote products which are eligible for official grading service. Plant approval for grading service does not constitute an endorsement of product quality; however, such assurance could be achieved by official grading to meet a U.S. grade standard or a quality specification of the buyer or seller.

Plant approval is determined by unannounced inspections, conducted at least twice yearly, covering over 100 items including milk supply, plant facilities, condition of equipment, sanitary practices, and processing procedures. The inspection criteria are outlined in General Specifications for Approved Dairy Plants (CFR 58.101 to .938) administered by the Poultry and Dairy Quality Division.

The USDA Plant Inspection Program is widely used by the dairy industry. It is recognized by dairy plant managers as an important means for improving and maintaining a sound operation for the production of products that will meet specific grade or contract requirements, and have uniform quality essential for buyer and consumer approval and protection. Buyers, too, find this publication a reliable guide to sources for dependable dairy products.

The Dairy Grading Branch also provides service under its Resident Grading and Quality Control Service. Plants using this service are shown in this publication with an asterisk. This full-time program offers on-the-spot official grading of the plant's manufactured products, laboratory testing and quality control, and plant inspection services. The resident program also makes available to the plant manager the technical know-how and experience of the Dairy Grading Branch supervisory staff, including chemists and bacteriologists, for help in solving product quality problems.

The Plant Inspection, Resident Grading, and Quality Control Services are available on a voluntary basis, and fees are charged to cover costs. Managers of dairy plants or other interested parties may obtain information about these services by contacting the nearest Dairy Grading Branch regional office. (See directory of offices inside of back cover.)

Plants listed in this publication are identified (where available) by State-assigned code numbers in accordance with the national uniform coding system known as FIPS (Federal Information Processing Standards). Each State has been assigned a two-digit number which appears in this publication following the name of the State. The State-assigned plant numbers identifying the plant precede the plant name.

This publication is revised every 3 months to reflect changes in plant approval and to include new plants.

USDA inspection and grading services are performed under the "USDA Regulations Governing Grading and Inspection of Manufactured or Processed Dairy Products," Title 7, Chapter I, Part 58, Sections 58.1-58.63, of the Code of Federal Regulations.

Codes shown below denote processing or packaging operations which meet USDA requirements for facilities and sanitation. Approval is limited to the designated kind of operation, and does not constitute eligibility for grading of finished products from such operation, unless the bulk dairy products or source ingredients for packaging or processing are made by a USDA-approved plant. (See pages 3 and 4 for codes indicating products eligible for USDA grading.)

If official inspection or grading service will be required on a "P" code product, the USDA Regional Supervisor should be contacted prior to manufacturing the product. Arrangements will be needed for assurance that dairy ingredients were made by a USDA-approved plant.

The USDA Salmonella Surveillance Program is not applicable to dry products made by approved "P" code packaging and processing operations. Since the products are not eligible for official inspection or grading service (unless special arrangements are made), there is no USDA monitoring of the plants' performance with respect to Salmonella control.
